Subject: CAXperts launches MaterialsSystemReporter that will greatly improve the productivity of companies running Intergraph® SmartPlant® Materials and Intergraph® SmartPlant® Reference Data

We are pleased to announce the launch of MaterialsSystemReporter, our latest high productivity utility for users of SmartPlant® Materials and SmartPlant® Reference Data.

MaterialsSystemReporter is a dedicated end user high productivity tool requiring no programming knowledge for intuitive ad hoc filtering and reporting of materials system data using CAXperts' patent pending drag & drop technology.

MaterialsSystemReporter allows users to customize individual report designs based on Microsoft® Excel templates. Data can be used independently of the materials system access.

MaterialsSystemReporter first extracts project project data from SmartPlant® Materials and Reference Data into a standalone database for use offline at any location. This then allows for country specific reporting requirements (UNI-code support) and company specific customizations, therefore reducing significantly the costs for the creation of essential materials management related reports!

Anton Schreibmueller, CAXperts managing partner in Asia Pacific, is very proud of this first dedicated utility for SmartPlant® Materials. "Our team has over 15 years of professional experience in material management systems and successful implementation services for SmartPlant® Materials. This product is a natural extension of the work of our highly qualified personnel using our structured implementation strategies" says Anton Schreibmueller.

Peter Schlegel, CAXperts, managing partner in Ismaning Germany, is pleased to see the expanded use of CAXperts' technology in such a vital material management reporting environment. "MaterialsSystemReporter was a natural application of our expertise and will be one more CAXperts essential reporting utility for project design/construction/operation including, our soon to be announced, future utilities like InstrumentationDataReporter" says Peter Schlegel.
